

ABOUT THE Con3Post PROJECT

Con3Post explores a persistent and under-researched trend of recruiting and posting of third-country nationals to work in the construction sector within the single European labour market. It seeks to produce new knowledge on the phenomenon, encourage transnational cooperation and exchange of information between key stakeholders in the EU and third countries, and increase access to information. Con3Post will innovatively contribute to a better understanding of challenges in the field of posting of third-country nationals by:

- producing new knowledge on a phenomenon that has not yet been thoroughly researched by collecting and analysing primary data
- conducting comparative research that allows for the exploration of regional differences and looks at the phenomenon of the recruiting and posting of workers from the perspective of all involved countries
- developing multi-stakeholder recommendations based on empirical findings
- utilizing a forward-looking approach by developing future scenarios
- sharing information and establishing transnational cooperation with a lasting impact.
